Active Pension

Your pension to be attained will be reduced by the amount in the column "for ex-partner". If the amount in the column "for expartner" is € 0, then your pension provider has already done this for you.

If your divorce is not known to (one of) your pension provider(s), then you will also not see the consequences of your divorce for this pension on Mijnpensioenoverzicht.nl. This can therefore have an effect on the pension you will receive. It is also possible that you made separate agreements with your ex-partner for this pension, as a result of which the divorce has no effect on this pension.
